

What is Coffee for Bees?

Thank you for supporting Food 4 Farmers and coffee-farming families! Coffee for Bees is a fundraiser to support beekeeping projects on Latin American coffee farms that help farmers feed their families and build resilience in their communities. Your cafe has signed up to donate a portion of honey-based drink sales to Food 4 Farmers on World Bee Day (5/20).

Why Beekeeping?

Beekeeping and honey production are great ways for small-scale farming families to earn critical extra income needed to feed their families, while improving family nutrition with honey and pollen. Beekeeping also benefits regional biodiversity, as well as coffee quality and production. When pollinated by honey bees and other pollinators, coffee productivity and quality can increase as much as 50%.

Who is Food 4 Farmers?

Food 4 Farmers is an organization that partners with coffee-farming communities in Latin America to help them overcome the months of seasonal hunger they face year after year, by strategically diversifying their farms and sources of income.

Learn More: www.food4farmers.org